

New homepage and task list

New homepage

Click Less. Teach More

- Color-coded course cards
- See all your courses in one view (highlights the courses)
- More customization options
- Jump easily from course page to updates to see updated stream and task list
- See impending tasks (click to the tasks bar)
- Supports engagement and teaching

New Task List

- Students see in one glance what needs to be done when
- Activities prioritized by due date
- Concise summary of activities (counters)
 - Overdue
 - Due today
 - Due tomorrow
 - Due later (upcoming tasks)

The screenshot displays a user interface for a learning management system. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the 'its' logo and menu items: Home, Courses, Groups, Calendar, and Library. On the right side of the navigation bar, there are icons for chat, notifications, and a user profile labeled 'Student'. Below the navigation bar, there are two tabs: 'Courses' and 'Updates'. The main content area is divided into two sections: 'Announcements' and 'Tasks'.

Announcements:

- The first announcement is from Chad Aarseth, dated 12 March, stating that 'Ancient architecture' has been added to the 'History of architecture' course.
- The second announcement is from Roksana Waters, posted 2 hours ago. It mentions that the prize-winning author Brian Christensen will visit the school to read from his novel 'The road to Alberta'. Below the text is a photograph of a man wearing a hat.
- The third announcement is also from Roksana Waters, dated 04.01.2019. It describes the novel 'An American Tragedy' by Theodore Dreiser, published in December 1925. Below the text is a document icon and the title 'An American Tragedy by Theodore Dreiser'.

Tasks:

The task list is organized by due date, with counters for each category:

- Overdue: 1 task
- Due today: 3 tasks
- Due tomorrow: 1 task
- Due later: 5 tasks

The tasks listed are:

- Music: Practice listening test (Deadline: 10:30 PM)
- English: How did European Romanticism compared to the i... (HOMEWORK, Deadline: 11:59 AM)
- English: What is romanticism in literature? (Deadline: 11:59 AM)
- English: Write at least 150 words about the moral principle... (Deadline: 3:30 PM)