

Shadow Tracking

Stand in the same spot at various times of the day and mark with chalk on the sidewalk how 'tall' your shadow is at each hour. Discuss with a grown up or someone in your house why our shadows shrink and grow and what that teaches us about the movement of the earth.

After you have completed your discussion, send me an email with what you have learned.